Newsletter

I went on the weekend trip to Blackpool with my 2 support staff where we had a busy weekend of fun with the discos at night and interacting with everyone else who went on the trip. We had trips on the trams into Blackpool town centre and to Madame Tussauds.

We even got tickets to go to my first football match, Blackpool v Southend United. Me and Barry were shown to our seats, we were told to pick from any in the section it turned out to be that we were the only two people in the stand right behind the goals and even though the day started off wet, the sun came out, we saw Blackpool win 2-0. I loved the atmosphere of the crowds shouting and clapping with our seats close to both sets of supporters. During the game one of the players shot at the goal and missed and the ball came towards us but the pitch steward walked in front of us and the ball hit him on the head and I laughed with everyone else around us even the steward laughed. I am now looking at trying to go to more football and other live events in the future.

George's story... Recently we went to York on the train, when we got there it was snowing!! We had lunch in an old pub then we went to the castle museum, and it was really interesting. We saw lots of Victorian things and a Victorian street. They had Victorian machines that you put money in and one of them gave me and Joanna a real fright! We also went to the 60s exhibition, which was my favourite bit. It was really bright and there was a lot to look at. Then we went to look at York Minster before going to catch the train home.
